201779797 Harris County District Court	KENNARD LAW P C vs. STRIPE INC	11/29/2017	Kennard defaulted on payments for services. Kennard filed a TRO, Injunction, etc. Kennard claimed that his business would suffer irreparable harm if this company does not provide him with services that he has not paid for. Kennard has a history of not paying vendors, contractors, etc. The courts do not consider the irreparable damages Kennard causes those businesses by not paying for services or defaulting on loans.
201767479 Harris County District Court	PORTER, LINDA A vs. KENNARD LAW PC (D/B/A KENNARD BLANKENSHI	11/29/2017	Legal Malpractice Lawsuit.
201703944 Harris County District Court	KENNARD RICHARD P C vs. TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF INSURANCE - DIVISION	1/19/2017	Case dismissed after it was discovered that Kennard had lost the case in a previous

	OF WORKERS' COMPENSATION		administrative hearing. More deception by Kennard.
215635101010 Harris County District Court	The State of Texas vs. KENNARD, ALFONSO JR (SPN: 02364993) (DOB: 11/09/1977)	6/16/2017	Alfonso Kennard Jr. found guilty of DWI in 2018. Probation completed in 2019.
1158331 Harris County Civil Court	2603 AUGUSTA INVESTORS, LP VS ALFONSO KENNARD, JR., KENNARD LAW P.C.	08/24/2020	Kennard finally successfully evicted.
1152372 Harris County Civil Court	MH SUB I, LLC VS KENNARD LAW P.C.	03/02/2020	Default judgment entered against Kennard Law PC. Good luck collecting. Prediction: Kennard will file an appeal of the decision.
1102568 Harris County Civil Court	QUEEN FUNDING LLC VS KENNARD LAW PC, ALFONSO KENNARD, JR.	01/12/2018	Appears Kennard satisfied the judgement after bank garnishment. Kennard took out the loan at the same time he took out loan with High Speed Capital.
17-CCV-059600 Fort Bend County Court	Lamar Texas Limited Partnership vs Kennard Law PC	03/21/2017	Default judgment entered against Kennard Law PC. Kennard has appealed the decision.

Kennard's agreement does not state that he charges $750.00 an hour but in his grievance response he claims that is what he charges. If he charges $750.00 an hour then why does he have so many default judgements against him for failure to pay vendors, contractors.

I believe Kennard uses a reputation builder in order to receive the vast about of positive reviews. I did a legal search of some of the names and could not find lawsuits filed on Kennard's behalf. I could not find where these individuals had filed lawsuits.

Hi Jesse. I'm sorry you thought we work for free. We work hard. We pour our hearts and souls into fighting for employee rights. It is really hard. We take the time to understand your case. Sorry if you think 250 was too much to spend 2 hours with you. I normally bill at 750/hour because I'm at the top of the employment law game. I fight for my folks. I would have fought for you. But, please have respect for our time and profession.

Worst experience ever. I've been assigned 3 different attorneys and several other personnel that have left the firm since June. It is now December and they have JUST NOW filed EEOC charge. Unbelievably frustrating trying to speak with someone on the phone or by email. They should be embarrassed.

Nicole—I appreciate your comments. I take everything seriously. My firm has represented over 4000 individuals. That's a lot. I've recovered over $50 million for my clients in the last several years. I'm sorry you have had unrealistic expectations. Your case wasn't what you advertised to us. I get my clients money. You would have been no different. You were not patient and that is okay. I wish you the best. Call me anytime if you want to discuss further. We can't please everyone, but I still try hard to; even those that trash me on the internet. God bless.

Uptime Systems v. Kennard Law

Thus, rather than address the legal standard applicable to Uptime's Motion to Revoke, provide this Court with an explanation for his conduct, or provide the Court with credible assurances that going forward he will follow local rules, statutes, and court orders, will cease making false statements to the Court and raising frivolous arguments, will stop engaging in unscrupulous tactics geared solely toward increasing Uptime's costs and fees, Alfonso Kennard, Jr., instead confirms that he is incapable of being truthful, has no intent to follow local rules, statutes, and court orders, will continue to make frivolous arguments directly contradicted by established law, and will engage in vexatious litigation tactics to delay the administration of justice. Alfonso Kennard, Jr.'s ongoing conduct and filings in Minnesota federal court affirm that he does not possess the professional character necessary to be admitted to practice before this Court.

Kennard was ineligible to practice law in Texas from 7-1-2020 through 7-23-2020; however, he continued to file petitions, motions, etc.

Kennard practiced law in Minnesota without a license for over a year. Kennard practiced law in Minnesota while he was ineligible to practice law in Texas. Kennard misrepresented to the judge in Minnesota that he was eligible to practice in Texas when his license was suspended. This was not a mistake. The opposing attorney had informed Kennard his license was suspended and gave Kennard the opportunity to tell the truth. True to form, Kennard doubled down on his misinformation. The Minnesota State Bar is in the middle of disciplining him. The Texas State Bar is aware. They will do nothing.

Clifford, Judith v. Kennard Law PC

Summary of This Motion.

1. Defendants deceived counsel for Plaintiff Clifford so that counsel for Plaintiff Clifford did not have proper notice and did not attend hearings on Defendant's Motion to Dismiss on August 20, 2020, and on August 31, 2020, resulting in the Order of August 31, 2020, dismissing Plaintiff Clifford case. Plaintiff Clifford seeks a rehearing of Defendant's Motion to Dismiss; set aside the Order of August 31, 2020; and deny Defendants' Motion to Dismiss; or in the alternative to grant
