Re: Petinsure.net LLC (“Petinsure”)

Dear Mr. Hurst:

We have been retained by BenExchange and Rich Hymes in connection with your breach of the terms of the Petinsure.net Operating Agreement dated December 9, 2015 (the “Agreement”).

Hurst Capital agreed, in exchange for its 34% interest in Petinsure, to make a capital contribution of $50,000 to Petinsure (the “Hurst Contribution”). In addition, you were required to open a bank account in the name of Petinsure (the “Account”) and deposit the Hurst Contribution into that Account which was never done. You also received $50,000 directly from Rich Hymes which constituted his capital contribution which was also to be deposited into the Account. This too was never done.

Your failure to comply with your agreements, obligations and/or undertakings and what is tantamount to the fraudulent conversion of Rich Hymes capital contribution is grounds, in accordance with the terms of the Agreement, for your expulsion for cause. You received notices of your transgressions and demands for return of Rich Hymes capital contribution by text and subsequent emails in July, 2017 all of which notices were ignored.

As a result of the foregoing, notice is hereby given that for the reasons set forth herein, you have been expelled as a Member of Petinsure. Furthermore, Petinsure again demands, on behalf of Rich Hymes, a return of his $50,000.

In the event $50,000 is not returned to Rich Hymes within 10 days from the date of this letter, he will take any and all legal action to recover the funds converted including reporting the conversion and misappropriation of his funds to the proper authorities.

Your prompt attention to this matter is required and please be guided accordingly.

Very truly yours,

ADLER & WONG, PLLC
