Just touching base on doors.
Do you think that it will be the end of October?

Just checking in to see when your thinking install for doors.

Jereme Bernard

Hey buddy I'm behind on all doors at the moment. My help quit and I'm back to solo. My Texas trip I had to postpone till November 15th so it will more than likely have to be once I get back from there.

I know the feeling! If it can be done before turkey day that would be great but if not I understand man.

Man I appreciate it!! I'm glad you understand.

Oh I definitely understand. I had to fire a guy today then had another worker give

Oh I definitely understand. I had to fire a guy today then had another worker give me a three day notice saying he's moving to Florida last week so I get it man

It's stupid. Mine about licked my front door out and we had words in the front out front. Never wanted to beat someone's ass so bad.

Lol. O man tell me about it

HA

The joys of running your own gig.

Hey buddy I was about to message you guys yesterday. Obviously it won't be Thanksgiving but I do plan to roll them out soon. Everybody pushing me for Xmas at the moment. I'll get em

Fuck, so it may or may not be until after Christmas?

I'll push for them for before then. Just have a few big orders to finish up. Losing my help really screwed me. That and being gone in Houston installing some down there.

Cool cooljust lmk. I hope so man since that is my only room that I will have to myself as my office.

I sure will. Thanks again.

Hey mani know your busy but this is now getting pretty frustrating. I have a hard time giving a deposit to someone and now we are way past the time frame you originally gave us.

If you can't do the job in a timely manner I'd like my money back.

I totally understand man. You are at the top of my list. I am very frustrated as well with not having help. I booked a ton of work when with not having help. I booked a ton of work when I had dudes to help now I have none. I am the same way when I order something I want it as soon as possible.

I appreciate your patience I truly do. I know some think I havnt been doing anything since I've posted the video of me building signs and all of the other Xmas items I posted. My wife had to come down with her 75yr old grandpa and help finish those projects.

In the meantime I've been at it 18hr days trying to get my large projects knocked out. Just bear with me. As you know everything is delayed like crazy right now. Wish I had 10 guys to help.

iMessage

Joshua

I understand that but I don't take deposits from anyone and then push projects out to is far. I'd it cannot be done within the next two weeks I kindly would like to get our money back man.

We will wait, just get us as soon as you can. Please before February.

I ask for half down deposits from everyone no matter what it is. I've been screwed to many times. I didn't push the project out this far on purpose. Unfortunately I do not do refunds on these custom orders. I'll try my best to get it within that time frame but I cannot promise anything. I have a few prospects lined up for help so hopefully that can so hopefully that can happen soon. I have a lot of people really pissed off right now.

I appreciate you guys!
Don't kill me yet man.

I have someone that is willing to help you get caught up a bit if you'd like... he just asked what pay would be. He's worked for me before when I needed help.

I appreciate the offering. I have a local kid that should be able to help here in the next couple of weeks he has called wanting work. And one of my old workers is supposed to be moving back from Florida soon as well.

I need the help but beina

iMessage

I need the help but being so small it's hard to pay much. I'll keep that in mind if I don't have them soon.

Well not sure what much pay is man considering you said the other day you could use 10 people and I'm offering you one person and he will work for about 15 bucks an hour so I mean if you can't afford that then I don't know man but I would honestly pay him to work for you so I can get my doors done

You have to understand something I run a company I own a company and I don't take deposits from anybody on anything other than something I can't return which is windows but that's been five years since I've taken a deposit on any windows and the

but that's been five years since I've taken a deposit on any windows and the fact that you haven't even started making your doors I don't understand why you can't give a deposit back because you haven't even started on them yet

Because my business is super super small. I have a buddy that does the same work as you and has done it about the same time. He doesn't take deposits either. But you have to keep in mind the money I work for is small compared to what you guys do. He bids jobs for 10,000 dollars at a time or right around there. I have jobs as big as yours once in awhile not all the time. I've been burnt so many times not asking for deposits it's not even funny.

So i started asking for smaller deposits and still got burnt. That's why I do deposits. I order all of my lumber in and stock pile it until I get to the project the same as my hardware.

I do appreciate your offering I was just stating that I could use 10 guys doesn't mean I can afford to pay that many.

I could barely afford to pay one guy about $100 a day. If he was like my old worker and could build the entire door and paint or stain it.

Today 6:05 AM

I don't see these doors getting done at all. If you would have stated 6 months plus time frame from the beginning that would be a different story. I do understand stock piling material however I don't understand deposit since your so busy and can use material on other jobs and all wood can be returned. Please give us our money back

Good morning. I didn't have any plan in these taking this long. If I had known I would have stated that. I'm sorry it has been delayed. These doors are going to get done. I've let you know that. Believe it or not I've actually been home al last week with my wife having week with my wife having Covid trying to watch my kids while she is sick. I am being tested today so I hope to be negative. I'm going to get these finished for you just bear with me a little bit longer here. I'm not blowing you off I promise.

Please just give our money back. I don't work this way.

I understand that. I don't do refunds on this custom work. I'll have these for you for sure.

I will file a claim then. No work had been started. That's not how business works.

I've started the work by purchasing the lumber and cutting things to size. You stated to try and have the doors by February that's doors by February that's what I am trying to do here. I know it seems I'm being crappy here man. I promise I'm not. I'm a one man show with no help that is behind. If I didn't plan on doing the work i wouldn't answer my phone when you reach out.

Just because you respond doesn't mean anything to me. You don't take peoples money and then give a 3 month time frame then keep pushing it out. Maybe not take on more work if you can't do the work that people have already paid you for in advance. I don't work that way never have it will.

I have to go

Delivered

I know. Like I said I had no clue at at all it would take
